

Eckelmann – Partner for automation and digitalization

As a full-service provider for industrial automation and digitalization, Eckelmann engineers offer all solutions from a single source: consulting, individual hardware and software solutions, turnkey automation systems, lifecycle management and smart service.

Customers around the world value the automation solutions from Wiesbaden, which combine future-oriented technologies with excellent expertise.

It goes without saying that the Wiesbaden-based company complies with industry specific regulatory requirements and regulations. Eckelmann solutions combine IT technology and automation technology and enable key performance indicator monitoring, analysis, system optimization and predictive maintenance. Simulations of test runs and commissioning on the digital twin are also a matter of course.
